Of an eventful year.

Few arrivals on the passenger trains yesterday.
This is a vacation week with the day-school scholars.
The Philharmonic society meets next Tuesday evening.
Chapman Lodge, A. F. & A. M., held their regular meeting last night.
The Knights of Honor met last night at the Odd Fellows hall in regular session.
The pay car arrived yesterday morning, settled up all accounts and proceeded south.
The American house is receiving a new coat of paint, from the brush of B. F. Stone.
J. H. Ward's new house on the west side of the park east side, is assuming form and shape.
Three additional saloons will open up for the first time during the first week of the new year. Next.
The gas pipe is being extended south on acacia street. It will likely be taken as far south as the college.
G. C. Booth, the portly manager of the street railway, is building a handsome residence in Rosenwald's addition.
W. D. Sandefer, one of Trainmaster Charlie Dyer's clerks, yesterday sold a house and lot on the east side for $1,400.

The billiard match in Santa Fe was concluded with the following scores: Babcock, 200; Whitmore, 130; and Atkinson, 110.
The several wood yards in town have a good supply of wood and coal on hand. This is a fine thing should severe weather set in.
The Albuquerque Journal will shortly enlarge to seven columns, preparatory to receiving the press dispatches. "They all do it."

The store-room on railroad avenue, adjoining Hopper Bros. on the south, is being fitted up for a saloon, to be opened by Leon Cole.

The stockholders of the Las Vegas Loan & Building Association, meet at 7:30 o'clock this evening at the office of Adin H. Whitmore.

The desks, counters, etc., in the Adams express office are being changed around considerably, so as to make them more convenient.

The A. T. & S. F. have doubled their guards between El Paso and Rincon, and have one guard on each train between Wallace and Deming.

Frank Meyer, the Plaza butcher, keeps the best of all kinds of meats, sausages, vegetables, etc. Go there when you want choice steaks.

A masquerade ball is on the tapis. Costumes will be ordered from Marcelino, Boffa & Perez, and from Rosenthal, in Las Vegas.—Socorro Sun.

Prof. Charles Longmear is no longer connected with the Socorro Miner. It is reported that he will start in Socorro a journal devoted exclusively to mining.

Charlie Lindsley, former yardmaster in the railroad yards, will go to Topeka to take charge of the yards there as soon as he can settle up his business matters here.

Theo. Rutenbeck yesterday received a consignment of clocks, among which is a very uncommon and unique one, which has a peculiar movement. It will bear looking at.

The New Southwest, published at Silver City, has changed hands. C. Bennett, the former owner, disposing of it to James Mullen, who will edit and publish it in the future.

Owners of Mineral city mines who wish to pool them with the Las Vegas Mineral Hill Mining company should call at Calvin Fisk's office, and put their names on the contract.

John B. Wooten's planing mill shut down last evening in order that repairs may be made on the boiler. They will be completed within two days, and the mill will start again the first of the week.

As a natural consequence of the large Christmas trade, business with the retail dealers this week is rather light, and merchants are taking advantage of it by preparing to take their annual invoice of stock.

On account of the Knights of Honor having possession of the Odd Fellows hall last evening, the organization meeting of the A. O. U. W. lodge was postponed until this Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the same hall.

P. J. McNulty, the carpenter, is building for Messrs. Searight & Davis a one-story frame building on Railroad avenue, directly west of the depot. It is twenty-five by fifty feet in size, and when finished will be occupied by the above named firm as a saloon.

Will C. Burton yesterday received a handsome silver played water heater, sent to him as a Christmas present from Chicago. He will use it in his bar-room to heat water for mixing drinks. It has a water-gauge, temperature register, etc., and is a beauty.

The Las Vegas Coal & Coke Company already enjoys a large patronage from coal buyers. They will soon have two more wagons and teams for the delivery of coal to customers. They deserve credit for the reduction of the price to $9 a ton, which made it necessary for the other dealers to follow suit.

The Late Wm. Foster.

LAS VEGAS HOT SPRINGS, N. M., Dec. 29, 1881.—Editor GAZETTE:—Your issue of this morning states that Mr. Wm. Foster, proprietor of Clifton Springs, New York, died at the Las Vegas Hot Springs night before last, of mountain fever. He died of an abscess of the liver which contained about half a pint of matter. Mr. Foster had not been well for several years, and spent the last six winters in Florida, for the benefit of his health, where he contracted malarial fever, causing disease of the liver and frequent passage of gallstones from which he has suffered ever since.

His brother, Dr. N. A. Foster, believing him to have been much benefited by taking the salts of some European mineral springs similar to those, persuaded him to come here and has been constantly with him since he came west. At Dr. Foster's request, with whom I have been associated in the case of the deceased since his arrival here, I made a post-mortem, during which, besides the abscess above mentioned, I found a gall stone of the size of a filbert, which seems to demonstrate the dissolving power of these waters on calculi, since the surface on the above which had been polished by grinding against those since discharged from the gall bladder, appear to be eroded, some of them being very much so. A most careful examination of this calculus will be made by the best experts in the country, to determine the question. It has long been claimed that the Karlsbad Springs, in Bohemia, Austria, do dissolve such stones, (and these are identical in quantitative and qualitative analysis with those,) but I have never seen it proved by post-mortem as I hope will be done in this case. If so what a boon for the thousands suffering from that cause.

Yours,
WM. H. PAGE, M. D.,
Resident Physician.

A Popular Move.

Passenger rates on the Santa Fe road in New Mexico have been reduced from 93 cents per mile to 8 cents per mile, the reduction to take effect about January 1st. This is a move in the right direction and our Territory can stand a good many such changes. This reminds us that in the east our pioneer road has the reputation of reducing rates and otherwise catering to the needs of the people. Legislatures are always the friends of the Santa Fe because the people are. What is true east of us is now true and probably always will be true (under the present management, at least) in New Mexico. The Territory may rest assured that just as fast as the increase of business will warrant it the Santa Fe company will re-model its tariffs in favor of the people.

New Year's Eve Social.

The ladies of the Methodist church have made arrangements for a social gathering and supper on next Saturday evening, at Gardner & Gillies' hall on Centre street. The place which they have secured for holding it is a very suitable one, large enough for the accommodation of all who may attend. An excellent supper will be spread, and all who go may expect a good time. A small admission fee, fifty cents, will be charged to defray expenses. Tickets on sale at Furlong & Ticer's, postoffice.

To Female Singers.

Preparatory to the organization of a complete female chorus by Prof. Bach on next Wednesday, January 4th, there will be a preliminary meeting held at his music rooms in the Marwede block, at 4 p. m. Saturday next, to make preliminary arrangements and receive applications for membership. All interested are invited.

Reported Sale of the New Mexican.

It is reported that Hon. E. R. Purcell has purchased the Santa Fe New Mexican, and will conduct it in connection with his numerous interests in New Mexico. He already owns a large interest in the Topeka Capital, and the success of that paper has probably encouraged him into a further journalistic venture.—Denver Tribune.

Pointers for Pilgrims.

That is what it is called—a handy little 24-page pamphlet containing a number of accurate and well written suggestions for people in the worn out east who need to know about the rich resources, unsurpassable climate, and many other things of our Territory. Walter C. Hadley is the author and compiler of the sprightly little work, which is now in press.

A New Socorro Daily.

A lively, newsy, well edited and well printed journal, is the Socorro Daily Sun, the first number of which was issued on Christmas day. It is a four-page sheet, five columns to the page, contains a good supply of reading matter, and has a good advertising patronage. Mark Edwards is the publisher, and we add the new daily to our exchange list with pleasure.

A Hearse for Santa Fe.

A. O. Robbins has concluded to remove his hearse to Santa Fe, and leave the business with Mendenhall, Hunter & Co., who recently purchased a new hearse just from the east, the only one in the city at present. Robbins' hearse was shipped yesterday.

The people of Las Vegas have followed the evidence in the Guiteau trial, as given by the dispatches in the GAZETTE day by day, and the general opinion is that the culprit will be hung. The court has granted him all the latitude in the world and all the constitutional rights guaranteed any one, and this very indulgence has sealed his doom. As Judge Porter says, "Guiteau, the assassin of the President, will assassinate no more forever, and the voice that is not silenced now, will be as dumb as the voice of his victim when the end of the law is reached."
